The Sicilian Woman's Daughter

Four generations of mafia women

Linda Lo Scuro

"If you loved My Brilliant Friend, The Godfather and Montalbano, you'll love this utterly gripping novel about women in organised crime in Sicily."

Most victims of the mafia are the Sicilians themselves. The role of women both as perpetrators and victims has been grossly overlooked. Until now.

As the daughter of Sicilian immigrants, in her teens Maria turns her back on her origins and fully embraces the English way of life. Notwithstanding her troubled and humble childhood in...

When Anthony Rathe Investigates

Matthew Booth

The original Anthony Rathe stories of courtroom criminal cases appeared on American public radio, syndicated by the late Jim French through his Imagination Theater.

When Anthony Rathe Investigates continues where the radio stories finished.

Prosecuting criminal cases, barrister Anthony Rathe convinced a jury to imprison an innocent man, who subsequently took his own life. Horrified at his mistake, Rathe abandons his glittering legal career, vowing to truly serve justice. A series of...

Lynnwood

Thomas Brown

FINALIST in the PEOPLE'S BOOK PRIZE

The unthinkable is happening in Lynnwood – a village with centuries of guilt on its conscience.

Who wouldn't want to live in an idyllic village in the English countryside like Lynnwood? With its charming pub, old dairy, friendly vicar, gurgling brooks, and its old paths with memories of simpler times. But behind the conventional appearance of Lynnwood's villagers, only two sorts of people crawl out of the woodwork: those who hunt and those who...

Author Biography:

Thomas Brown has a doctorate from the University of Southampton, where he investigated the relationship between horror and the sublime in literature. He has been Co-Editor of Dark River Press, and has written for a number of magazines, websites and independent publishers.

Rough Justice

Bill Kirton

Floyd Donnelly is only 26, but he has already spent four years in prison for violent robbery. Foul-tempered and amoral, he has made himself no friends. Even so, it is a shock when his corpse is found.

Detective Chief Inspector Carson thinks he knows who is responsible: David Burchill, self-made man and owner of the property where Donnelly was squatting. Burchill admits that he sent his men round to encourage the squatters to leave. But he has a cast iron alibi for his actions on the...

Unsafe Acts

Bill Kirton

An offshore platform in the turbulent North Sea is a dangerous place... there's the isolation, the machinery and the constant battle with the whims of nature. For Ally Baxter, a safety officer on Falcon Alpha, those whims take an odd turn. When his workmates decide he is gay, an evening ashore turns ugly as they indulge in queer-bashing, and later his body is found along the route the group followed.

For DCI Jack Carston, the case seems simple enough until a second murder is...

The Darkness of Death

David Stuart Davies

'Do you believe in ghosts, Mr Hawke?' When a woman who died two years ago inexplicably reappears, private eye Johnny Hawke is immediately called upon to investigate. What emerges is an elaborate maze of deception and brutal murder. The case sees Johnny drawn into the world of the crooked Bernstein family, particularly the cruel and domineering Gina, who will allow no one to stand between her and her evil goal. As the danger closes in on him and escape seems increasingly impossible,...
